

International day of immunology

APRIL 29TH 2021

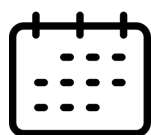

2021 THEME: COVID-19

European Federation of Immunological Societies

Join the IUIS in a global effort to promote the benefits of immunology research

Reserve April 29, 2021 as the day to discuss immunology with everyone you know! Your participation helps an international community of immunologists dedicated to improving health for people around the world. We are happy to assist with advice and/or pedagogic material that you can freely use to create a winning virtual campaign that will reach journalists, schoolteachers, politicians and decision-makers, or to plan face-to-face actions if the health situation in your area allows it.

DAY OF IMMUNOLOGY AWARDS

The IUIS and EFIS are awarding 6,000€ every three years, to the four best public relations campaigns covering the Day of Immunology. All National Societies and Regional Federations are eligible to apply!
